

Wage Increases And Higher Postal Rates Asked By Eisenhower

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower urged Congress today to boost the pay of government Civil Service and postal workers by about 5 per cent and at the same time raise postal rates. He also proposed a health insurance program for government workers.

The President estimated the pay raise would cost $339,500,000 a year and that the cost to the government of the health program would be $55,000,000 a year.

Eisenhower sent two separate messages to Congress—one dealing with a pay increase for Civil Service workers and the other with a pay raise for postal workers and with the proposed increases in postal rates.

Two Tied Together
The tying together of postal rate and postal pay increases amounted to a repetition of the President's stand of last year that he vetoed a bill last year to boost federal pay because it did not include higher postal rates.

Congressional comment since the new session began has indicated the lawmakers are receptive to the idea of a pay boost for government workers but still reluctant to raise postal rates.

In today's postal message, Eisenhower recommended that:
1. Congress create a permanent, independent commission to adjust postal rates in future. Rates now are established by Congress.

2. In the meantime, Congress should raise existing rates on the first three classes of mail. Eisenhower didn't specify by how much, but the administration's position has been that letter postage should go up from three to four cents and air mail postage from six to seven cents.

Pay Fair Share
The President said second class rates which apply on newspapers and magazines should be increased "until such matter makes a fair

Experts Discuss Conservation In Lansing Today

LANSING (AP)—Some 500 persons were expected today for the opening of the Michigan Natural Resources Conference—a two-day meeting to discuss problems of conservation.

Principal speaker for today's session was Dr. R. G. Gustavson, of Resources for the Future Inc., of Washington, D. C. Dr. Gustavson will speak on "Resource problems of the United States."

Sportsmen, farmers, wildlife experts and educators attending the meeting will divide into groups later in the day to study conservation of land, water, minerals, wildlife, wood and recreation areas.

Donald W. Douglass of the State Conservation Department, heading panel on wildlife, will ask for more protection of non-game wildlife.

Norman F. Billings, hydrologist for the State Water Resources Commission, will head a panel on the legal rights to the use of water.

In a panel of minerals, headed by Franklin Pardee of the Lake Superior Iron Ore Assn. participants will discuss the need for expanded exploration and topographic mapping by the U. S. Geological Survey, the need for more engineers in the mineral industry, and how Michigan can compete with other states in the production of minerals.

The conference, first of its kind in the state, was sponsored by the University of Michigan, Michigan State College and the Michigan College of Mining and Technology. Conferees hoped to draw up a set of recommendations for submission to Gov. Williams and the Legislature.

INJUNCTION ISSUED
CADILLAC (AP)—A Circuit Court injunction was issued Monday ordering a local auto dealer to halt the sale of 1955 Michigan auto license plates.
The order, signed by Judge Howard M. Campbell, was issued against William DeClerck on the complaint of L. J. Denning, another car dealer. James M. Hare, secretary of state who authorized DeClerck to sell the plates.
Denning contended the concession gave DeClerck an unfair advantage over other local auto dealers.
The Chamber of Commerce formerly handled the sale of plates. Judge Campbell set a hearing for Jan. 20.

Rebel Force Takes Costa Rica Village

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP)—President Jose Figueres, feuding with Nicaragua, announced today a small rebel aerial force has taken Villa Quesada, a Costa Rican village 50 miles south of the Nicaraguan frontier.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Costa Rica and Nicaragua were asked by their sister American republics Monday to do nothing to "aggravate" their current quarrel. Costa Rica shortly afterward moved to expel Nicaragua's envoy.

The council of the Organization of American States decided late Monday to postpone any action on a complaint by Costa Rica that she is threatened by invasion from Nicaragua. Another council meeting was set for Wednesday to allow representatives of the 21 American republics to consult with their governments.

Several hours later, the Costa Rican government announced in San Jose it had declared unwelcome the Nicaraguan charge d'affaires.

Young Wife Killed At Hyde In Automobile-Train Crash

Kavanagh Backs Jobless Pay For 2 State Groups

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh today took steps to aid two groups in their search for unemployment compensation.
One involved an estimated 45,000 federal employees in Michigan and the other 5,700 Ford Motor Co. employees in Detroit who were idled by a strike at the company's Canton, Ohio, plant.

In both cases, Kavanagh reversed his Republican predecessor, former Atty. Gen. Frank G. Millard.

Opinion Overruled
In the case of the federal employees, Kavanagh flatly overruled a Millard opinion which held that the federal government must be treated the same as a private employer.

The crux of that case is this: State law apparently says that the last employer of an unemployed worker shall be charged for the unemployment compensation benefit paid him until the employer's credits in the state fund are exhausted. Then the charge falls on previous employers in order.

Millard held that a federal employee who became unemployed must be charged against the federal government's account first.

Kavanagh held in the new opinion that this was not mandatory and that the State Employment Security Commission could contract with the federal government to give its employees unemployment pay on the basis that the coverage be charged against prior private employers, exempting the federal government.

State Line Crossed
Michigan employer groups have objected to this theory because their rate of contributions to the unemployment compensation fund is based on their unemployment record.

In the second case, Kavanagh set what he said was a new policy of intervening in an appeal to "protect" the rights of employees. He said the Employment Security Commission's referee had refused to allow idleness benefits to the Ford employees idled by the Canton strike.

This, he said, was an extension of two State Supreme Court decisions which held that a company's factories within one city or within Michigan were parts of "a single establishment." Hence, under state law, a strike in one barred employees in another from unemployment compensation.

Kavanagh said he objected to extending this theory to cross state lines and would fight it.

He said he was intervening voluntarily and not at the request of any labor union.

WOMAN KILLED IN CRASH—Crushed and twisted, the wreckage of the auto is pictured at the C&NW-County Road 533 crossing at Hyde, where Mrs. Gerald Nelson of Flat Rock was killed at 9:40 a. m. today when the Nelson car was struck by the North Western streamliner. Mrs. Nelson, alone in the car, was on her way to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kleiman. (Daily Press Photo)

Traffic Tragedy Claims Life Of Mrs. G. Nelson, 24

Mrs. Gerald Nelson, 24, of Flat Rock, who was starting a motor trip to Wilson to visit her parents on her day off from work, was killed at 9:40 a. m. today when the car she was driving was struck at Hyde by the southbound Chicago & North Western streamliner.

The accident, first traffic fatality of 1955 in Delta County, occurred on County Road 533 at the railway crossing only a short distance from the highway junction with US-2.

The Nelson car was almost across the tracks before it was hit, it was indicated by marks of the tires on the icy roadway. The locomotive of Train 214 struck the automobile on the driver's side.

Hurled From Car
The force of the impact hurled the light sedan a distance of about 150 feet along the tracks, breaking off a large railway crossing sign and crushing in the side of the car. The train was not damaged.

Mrs. Nelson was thrown from the car and apparently died instantly. Her body was about 30 feet beyond the wrecked car, and an estimated 180 feet from the crossing.

There were no witnesses to the accident at Hyde, and no report had yet been filed by the train crew. Claude Tobin Jr., conductor and George Powell is engineer of the "4400" streamliner No. 214. The train halted after the accident and then continued on.

Was To Visit Mother
County Road 533 was in an icy condition on both sides of the railway tracks, it was noted by George C. Stuart, superintendent of the C&NW's Upper Peninsula Division.

Mrs. Nelson, who was Barbara Kleiman until her marriage a little more than a year ago, was employed as a meat wrapper at the Red Owl Store in Escanaba. She had worked there since 1949.

John Ryan, Red Owl store manager, reported that Mrs. Nelson yesterday said that she planned to drive to Wilson on her day off from work and visit her mother. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kleiman of Wilson.

County Road 533 is a shortcut from Flat Rock, where the Nelsons reside, to US-2 and the main highway route to Wilson. Mr. Nelson is employed at the Escanaba Paper Company mill and was at work when the accident occurred.

The former Barbara Rose Kleiman was born August 19, 1930 at Wilson where she resided until the time of her marriage on May 9, 1953. She was a member of Holy Family Church, Flat Rock.

Surviving are her husband; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kleiman Sr. of Wilson; five brothers, James, Francis and Lloyd, at home, Joseph of Escanaba and Theodore Jr. of Wilson, and one sister, Mrs. Al (Florence) Joras, Harris.

The body was taken to the Alto Funeral Home where funeral arrangements will later be completed.

Commission Endorses 101-Billion-Dollar Highway Improvement

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special presidential commission today presents to the White House a 101-billion-dollar federal-state highway program incorporating a new approach to the problem of modernizing the nation's highways.

The commission was reported to have given full endorsement to President Eisenhower's "grand plan" for expenditure of 54 billion dollars over the next 10 years in addition to the 47 billions now planned. The object: to develop maximum use of highways for a possible national emergency.

Eisenhower is due to send the administration's highway program to Congress Jan. 27. He is expected to follow pretty closely the findings of his five-man commission, headed by retired Gen. Lucius D. Clay.

As outlined last week by Frank Turner, the commission's executive director, the plan would set up a big new federal agency to finance the program by floating bonds. Highway improvement contributions are now made to the states out of federal appropriations.

For work on the "strategic network" of interstate highways, the federal government now puts up

Sheppard Under Watch At Jail

CLEVELAND (AP)—Sorrowed by a last look at his mother and anxious over his seriously ill father, Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard was under constant watch today in the county jail's fourth-floor observation cell.

But the 31-year-old osteopath has shown no sign of emotional crack-up, his jailer said.

Sheppard wept Monday during the funeral service for his white-haired mother, Mrs. Ethel Niles Sheppard, 64. He wept again when he stood with his two brothers beside the casket for a moment before it was closed.

Mrs. Sheppard shot herself to death with a revolver last Friday. The brothers say she was despondent after her son's sentence, three weeks ago today, to life imprisonment for the July 4 murder of his wife Marilyn.

Police said the mother's suicide note said only:
"I can't manage alone without father."

Speedy Approval Promised Plans To Lower Tariffs

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic and Republican congressional leaders joined today in forecasting early approval of President Eisenhower's program to help spur free world trade by lowering U. S. tariffs.

In a special message Monday, Eisenhower renewed proposals for a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act with power to cut tariffs another 15 per cent.

He also called for measures to stimulate investment of U. S. capital abroad, largely through tax concessions; to simplify customs regulations; to furnish more technical "know-how" to underdeveloped countries; to encourage American travel to other lands; and to increase American participation in international trade fairs.

Rep. Cooper (D-Tenn.), incoming chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee and chief sponsor of a bill to implement the President's proposals, announced hearings would start next Monday.

Indications were the trade bill might be the first major legislation passed by the new Democratic-controlled Congress.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), who will head the Senate Finance Committee, said his group would hold hearings as soon as the House acts.

Rep. Halleck (R-Ind.), assistant House Republican leader, said he thought the program would be enacted "substantially as recommended" and that "a good majority" of Republicans would be for it.

Cheboygan Man Shot By State Troopers In Wild Auto Chase
CHEBOYGAN (AP)—A state trooper Monday night shot and wounded Bernard Jewett, 29, of rural Cheboygan, who police said brandished a gun at the officer after a wild automobile chase.

Troopers John Sible and Philip Charney pursued Jewett to his home in a high speed chase after he failed to stop for a traffic violation. Police said Sible fired after Jewett refused the trooper's order to drop a shotgun. Jewett was reported in fair condition.

Secretary Of UN Mum On Results Of Peiping Talks

HONG KONG (AP)—U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, arriving in Hong Kong from Peiping tonight, disclosed he had cabled warm thanks to Red China's Premier Chou En-lai for his hospitality.

The U. N. chief remained mum on the results of his mission seeking the release of 11 American airmen held by Red China as spies and other U. N. personnel imprisoned by the Chinese.

Hammarskjold told 50 waiting newsmen at Kowloon, Hong Kong's mainland station, he would make no statement on his mission until he made his report to the U. N. General Assembly which sent him.

As the Hammarskjold party crossed into the British crown colony at the frontier station of Lowu, he sent a cable back to Chou saying:

"On leaving your country, I wish to convey to you on behalf of my colleagues and myself our warm appreciation of the welcome given us. Your courtesies and hospitality and the unfailing assistance of everyone with whom we came in contact have rendered this a most memorable experience, for which we all of us stand in gratitude."

The secretary general told newsmen, smiling, that: "This isn't a press conference."

But he read out the sentences from his cable to Chou.

Hammarskjold is scheduled to spend the night at Government House in Hong Kong before flying on to Tokyo and thence to the United States. He is due back at U. N. headquarters in New York Saturday. He is to leave for Tokyo at 8 a. m. Wednesday 6 p. m. CST tonight aboard a Scandinavian Airways System plane.

Iron Mountain Recount Asked

LANSING (AP)—Next to the last steps were taken today for a recount of the Nov. 2 election for state representative in the Menominee-Dickinson County district.

Former Sen. Albert J. Wilke of Iron Mountain, Democrat, defeated in the official election returns, filed a petition seeking a recount in 34 precincts and posted a $170 bond.

Rep. James Goulette (R-Iron Mountain), who won re-election by 89 votes in the canvass, filed a counter petition seeking a recount of the remaining 23 precincts in the district and posted a $115 bond.

State law requires a candidate seeking a recount to file $5 a precinct. If he wins the recount his money is returned.

The petitions will be presented to the Legislature on Wednesday, the opening day of the 1955 session, and presumably will be sent to committee for study. If it decides to order a recount the committee will go to the district to conduct it.

DETROIT (AP)—A three-man board will review security risk charges Jan. 25 against Harold Nettle, suspended border patrol inspector at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich.

Board members will be federal employees named by U. S. Attorney Fred W. Kaess.

Nettle was suspended from his government job last October on charges that some of his wife's relatives were either Communists or Communist sympathizers. Nettle's personal loyalty is not questioned.

He already has appealed for congressional aid. Sen. Humphrey (D-Minn.) has asked the Senate Civil Service Committee to investigate the suspension.

Board Debates Tax Situation

The Delta County Board of Supervisors yesterday established the county valuations as the basis for assessments for county taxes this year, but it is likely, nevertheless, that when the taxes are spread next fall, the higher state equalized valuations will be used.

The county board's equalization committee discussed the situation at considerable length yesterday. The committee finally voted to use the county valuations as the tax base and the board as a whole concurred.

The Supreme Court has ruled that in counties with fractional school districts, such as Delta County, the state equalized valuations must be used for tax purposes instead of the county equalized valuations.

Up To School Districts

If any school district in the county requests that school taxes be assessed on the state equalized valuations, all of the school districts in the county will also receive their millage allotments on the basis of the state figures. Such requests must be made to the tax allocation board.

If the school taxes are assessed on the state valuations, then the county taxes must also be assessed on the same basis, according to legal opinion presented to the Board of Supervisors.

Since the Escanaba School District requested this year to use the state valuations for school taxes in Escanaba, it is almost certain that a similar request will be forthcoming again when the tax allocation board meets. This will automatically establish the state valuations as the tax base for county and school purposes in Delta County.

Sanatorium Property

The board voted to concur with other county boards governing affairs of the Powers Sanatorium to sell certain property belonging to the Sanatorium. The property consisted of about 17 acres of wooded land north and west of the village of Spaulding and James Jones representing the sanatorium, stated that it was of no value to the institution. Argument had been presented that bids should be advertised and the property sold to the highest bidder, but it was finally decided that as long as other county boards had assented to the sale, the board might just as well concur. The Potter Milling Company at Spaulding was the purchaser and the purchase price was $1,200.

Agreeing with the resolution of its purchasing committee, bonds for county officers were ordered purchased from the Delta Insurance Company at a cost of $493.95. Terms of officers of the county road commission were set at three years. The former term of office was five years.

Four matters up for consideration by the board were voted laid on the table. They were: Contributions to the library fund; terms of county road commission officers (taken care of by a different committee resolution); authorizing an additional five mill tax levy; and a resolution to abate nuisance caused by the din of outboard motors.

"My wife is the one who first introduced me to O-JIB-WA BITTERS. She began taking it about a year and a half ago, because her arms were swollen and very painful. Her blood circulation was very poor and brown spots began to appear on her skin. She had tried many medicines, but nothing helped very much until she used O-JIB-WA. The pains left and the spots went away, so she has been recommending it to others ever since. I read on the folder packed with the bottle, that it was good for stomach ailments, and as I have been suffering for a long time with my stomach, I decided to give it a trial. About all I had been able to eat was like baby food, and of course anything fried would about kill me. O-JIB-WA BITTERS helped me right away and in 10 days I wasn't bothered at all. Because of the excellent results we have both received from your medicine, we are glad to tell all who suffer about the merits of O-JIB-WA BITTERS."

Sheriff Issues Annual Report

A sharp reduction in the number of drivers' licenses issued by the Delta County Sheriff's Department was reported in 1954 compared with previous years because of the change in the driver license regulation Sheriff William Miron's annual report reveals.

Only 2017 licenses were issued in 1954 compared with 3,406 in 1953. The change resulted from the new law which establishes birthday of licensees as the renewal date. Due to the change many licensees were granted an extension of previous licenses. The number of licenses issued is expected to return to normal this year.

The sheriff's report shows that there were 356 prisoners in jail in 1954 compared with 305 in 1953. There were 28 women prisoners in each of the two years.

The sheriff's report for 1954 includes the following:

Prisoners taken to Marquette prison 8, prisoners taken to Ionia 1, patients taken to Newberry 30, drownings 2, suicides investigated 4, fishermen rescued 2, rowboats recovered 4, stolen bicycles recovered 6, dogs destroyed 131, car accidents investigated 47 with damages over $50, 46 with damages under $50, stolen cars recovered 2, complaints 674, breaking and entering cases, 18 with 14 closed, sheriff sales 10, replevins 14, evictions 6.

The report revealed that the sheriff's department devoted 19 days to a search for a drowning victim at Fayette.

The 131 dogs destroyed in 1954 represents a sharp increase from 1953 when only 15 dogs were destroyed. The increase was the result of the county's dog license enforcement program.

Richard Hanson was arrested Jan. 6 and William on Jan. 8, both in Ensign Township. The arrests were made by Conservation Officers James Walker, Hugh Fisher, Glenn Price and Chester Van Wieren.

Biologist Outlines Sea Lamprey Problem

William E. Gaylord, research biologist for the U. S. Wildlife Service, told the Delta County Sportsmen's Club here last night that, with the knowledge gained in five years of work, it is possible to stop the sea lamprey. However, to do so will be costly, take time and will kill some fish other than the lamprey.

Control methods and devices being used in Upper Peninsula waters are the result of three years of work on Lake Huron streams where a number of different devices were tried and the electrical device presently in use developed. He said that killing of game fish by the electrical control method occurs when stream currents are not strong enough to carry the shocked fish out of the electrical field before they suffocate.

Control work was concentrated in Lake Superior streams in an effort to preserve the remaining lake trout fishery on that lake, but the work on Lake Michigan tributaries is now being expanded. This year, in addition to the weirs previously in use on streams at the head of the Bays de Noc, the Ford River, Bark River and Cedar River will have weirs.

Prevent Spawning
He explained that the weirs function is to prevent the spawning of the adult lamprey. Those which are caught in the traps near the electrical field are killed and any which are discouraged from spawning and return to the lake die because the lamprey lives only one year as an adult.

The movie "Great Lakes Invader" in sound and color was screened by Bill DeCock to illustrate Gaylord's talk.

Cliff Long of the Michigan Conservation Department's fish division reported that brush shelters, as suggested in a club discussion last summer, have been placed in Trout Lake, Alger County. Twelve of the shelters were installed in September.

Long said that such shelters are an innovation in trout waters and that he would appreciate hearing what success the fishermen have in fishing near them. Each shelter is marked by a red and white painted post that protrudes from the water.

The 1955 membership campaign was opened at the meeting and announcement was made that the annual meeting and election of officers will be held on January 24.

Plans for the party which the Delta Sportsmen as host organization will stage for the convention of the Michigan United Conservation Clubs here in June were outlined. Some possibilities for handling other details were also briefly discussed.

Second Test Light Installed On Street

Another sample street lamp was installed Monday at the corner of 10th St. and 2nd Ave. S., one block south of a test light previously erected. It was announced today by Harvey Germanon, city electrical department superintendent.

The new lamp is a mercury vapor type, 250 watt size, and has 11,000 lumens light output. It is a General Electric Company product and is shown through the courtesy of the Graybar Electric Company.

Germanon said the comparison between the first installation and the second is in size and lumen output. The first installation at 10th and 1st Ave. S. is 400 watt size with 20,000 lumens light output.

Promotions In Local Guard Announced

Capt. Roy J. Johnson, company commander of Company C, local engineer unit, today announced the following promotions and changes in assignments effective Jan. 6:

Pfc. Walter Wojcik, Bark River, to the grade of corporal and Pvt. Robert Rodgers, Escanaba to private first class; change in instructors, in the units recruit training school. Cpl. Donald Brewer, Gladstone, to be in charge of the school, with Pfc. Jon Servant, Escanaba, as an additional instructor.

The local Guard Company has now reached a total of 96 enlisted men, with only 14 vacancies still existing.

Capt. Johnson urged young men and veterans to take advantage of enlisting now, while the unit is expanding. He said that during the month of February a new third platoon will be formed and a new recruit school will start.

Opportunities always exist for guardsmen to attend regular army schools at army posts, on a variety of engineer subjects. Also available to members, who cannot leave to attend schools, are home study extension courses from the Engineer School at Fort Belvoir, Va. This type of training gives an enlisted man a chance to qualify for a commission as an officer or a non-commissioned officer grade, Capt. Johnson said.

41% Of Congressional Hearings Held Last Year Were Secret

LAWMAKERS on Capitol Hill frequently hide the executive agencies of government for too much secrecy. They grow irritable when they can't get access to departmental files, and reports of conversations between top officials.

But they live in a glass house. The publication Congressional Quarterly recently reported that upwards of one-third of all sessions of congressional committees are conducted in secret.

Admittedly, there never has been a peacetime era like the one we live in, when the demands of national security compel a considerable degree of secrecy. Certain deliberations pertaining to atomic energy, to general defense, and to the nation's diplomacy clearly must be kept close to the chest.

But that requirement does not justify Congress in barring the public, as it did in 1954, from 41 per cent of all its hearings. In 1953, the figure was 34 per cent, which was bad enough.

The secrecy requirements first of World War II and then of cold war have provided men in Congress and the executive branch as well with the excuse to perpetuate and broaden a habit that is all too convenient for political figures.

Congress assemblies to deal with the public's business, and it should be the lawmakers' policy to let the public in on as much of that business as it can without hurting the national safety.

When from a third to nearly a half of its committee sessions are held in secret, citizens can only conclude that their representatives are taking advantage of them. They are utilizing the temper of the times to justify cloaking their errors, their embarrassments, their decisions from public gaze.

We have had this problem with us for a decade and a half. It is something of a shock to learn that it seems to be getting worse.

The next time a committee chairman gets up his hind feet and demands that a federal department bare its files, drop the fellow a note and ask him how many times in the year he's held public hearings. It's time we stopped using secrecy as a prime device for political protection.

What Is The Truth?

THERE ought to be some sort of independent auditing service to which the American citizenry could turn for the truth about the finances of his governments—federal, state, and local.

One expects politicians to disagree violently about the effectiveness of rival administrations. One expects them to put whatever interpretation on the facts that will serve them best politically.

But where figures are concerned, there ought not, logically, to be as much leeway as the politicians like to suggest. Of course they too are subject to varying interpretations. But basically they should, if they are accurate, tell a consistent story.

Now Governor Harriman of New York, a brand-new Democrat in office, has already declared that former Governor Dewey, long touted a model of efficiency, left his state's fiscal affairs in a horrible state. Dewey's denial is automatic. But where is the truth?

Must we simply take our choice between rival statements? Either a deficit is so big, or it isn't. Either a state's affairs are fine or they are not. Since there are hard, cold numbers available to prove the matters one way or another, can't we be told the full and correct story by someone who has no axe to grind?

Words, Wit & Wisdom

By William Morris

From San Bernardino, California: "In the recent stories about Sir Winston Churchill's 80th birthday I noticed the following eloquent and appropriate sentiment inscribed on his birthday cake: 'He is a man take him all for all, we shall not look upon his like again.'

"Can you tell me who said this first?" This quotation is a slight paraphrase of the beautifully eloquent lines spoken by Hamlet in Act I when reminiscing of his recently murdered father. The original lines read:

"He was a man, take him for all in all, I shall not look upon his like again."

One of this department's book publishing friends, Ben Huebsch of Viking Press, forwards his favorite quotation from Melville's MOBY DICK: "All ready there, Fedallah?" (says Ahab). "Ready," was the half-hissed reply."

"Try hissing that non-sibilant 'ready,'" notes Mr. Huebsch. "Indeed, try half-hissing it, as Fedallah was supposed to have done. Maybe Melville could do it—but I'll wager you can't!"

And then there's the reader who notes: "One of our leading humorous magazines likes to use as filler items various malapropisms and typographical errors clipped from newspapers. A favorite category is labeled THE OMNIPOTENT WHOM and cites sentences in which the writer uses 'whom'—usually in an attempt at elegant writing—when 'who' is called for."

"Here is a superlative example of this common error from a lead editorial carried by a national chain of newspapers:

"The thing to do with this Dixon-Yates contract, Mr. President, is to toss it into the ashcan. Then offer to buy the electric power we need from whomsoever makes the lowest bid."

"Shall we label this THE SUPERLATIVE WHOMSOEVER?"

"Who's asking you?" she snapped. "I know his shortcomings better than the likes of you. I just thought that if you flatfoot could dig up a gent answering my description, I might take him instead."

The Doctor Says... Rheumatic Fever Is One Of Children's Worst Enemies

By EDWIN P. JORDAN M. D. — Written for NEA Service

Rheumatic fever is one of the most potent enemies of children and young people; growups can get it but this is less common. While the disease is disabling during an attack, the great danger from it is not the attack itself but the fact that this disease may injure the heart and its valves, thus producing trouble in later life.

It usually produces swelling, pain and redness of the joints, skipping from one joint to another. The joints recover entirely, but permanent damage to the heart all too often results. Sometimes its presence is less obviously typical.

BOTH THE HEART muscle which causes this organ to contract and expand, thus producing its pump-like action, and the inner valves of the heart may be injured.

The valves which lie between the heart chambers serve an important purpose in the circulation of the blood. If they are damaged in such a way as to allow the blood to flow backward into a chamber which it is supposed to have left, the heart, of course, is subjected to extra strain.

THE GREATEST danger from rheumatic heart disease is the result of repeated attacks. It is known, however, that most attacks of rheumatic fever are preceded two or three weeks earlier by infections with certain kinds of streptococci (which are germs) such as sore throat, tonsillitis, scarlet fever or infections of the middle ear. Since this is the case, it is readily apparent that if these streptococcal infections could be attacked when they occur, the chances of bouts of rheumatic fever would be lessened.

THIS HAS BEEN proved correct. A short, intensive course of treatment with penicillin, if it can be given early in any dangerous streptococcal infection, helps to prevent the first attack of rheumatic fever. Furthermore, penicillin can be given with later attack of streptococcal infection, or even monthly for protection. Such measures cause a definite lessening of the numbers of youngsters who later come down with rheumatic fever.

All our questions about rheumatic fever have not been answered, but in learning to prevent dangerous streptococcal infections from lighting up attacks of rheumatic fever, a long stride forward has been made.

Today In Washington

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower's message covered the waterfront. He urged that something be done about everything but he didn't say when. He is for peace, prosperity, better defense, lower taxes next year, and he even thinks "the arts" and culture should come in for a bit of governmental recognition.

It was perhaps the best political speech ever delivered in the form of an opening address to Congress. It took the wind out of the sails of the "left wing" Democrats, including those who believe in a "welfare state." What could they advocate now? And it was worded with sufficient caution and alternative generalities to keep the conservatives in both parties from being too much alarmed.

Yet it wasn't a middle-of-the road speech in any sense. Positive recommendations for social-welfare legislation were accompanied by rather definite pronouncements about the need for prudence and economical handling of the nation's finances.

"WELL DELIVERED"

After hearing the message, Representative Francis E. Walter of Pennsylvania, Democrat, quipped that the speech "sounded like he (Eke) is a candidate on both tickets." This describes the political overtones of the address, though it doesn't necessarily confirm the bipartisan character of the recommendations. For many of the proposals will split the Democratic as well as the Republican party, and the final votes will show considerable divergence within both parties.

The comments afterward from the Democrats were characteristic. They said about what political opponents always say—"well delivered," "General," or "must wait-for-details." Nobody on the Democratic side waxed wildly enthusiastic—and the Republicans gave it the praise their party leader is expected to be given on such an occasion. They all saw the political implications of the message.

The President said something on almost every subject except "civil rights" legislation. His recommendations showed evidence of their having been worked on for a long time. In many respects, the address has far better organized and better phrased than any legislative message President Eisenhower has sent to Congress.

MUCH CONTROVERSY

Lot of controversies are imbedded in the general phrases of the address. Even if Congress were disposed to act on the principal topics, there are enough issues in them to keep both houses busy not just for one session but for several sessions.

The President was well advised when, in somewhat subtle but nevertheless significant fashion, he expressed the hope that partisanship would not be abandoned merely on international policy, as he felt that there should be cooperation wherever the good of the country is involved. This is but another way of warning the Democrats that he hasn't forgotten their campaign pledges to uphold his policies. The opposition party is somewhat embarrassed by that blanket promise and is trying now to qualify it by saying the President will be supported when he is right and opposed when he's wrong. That's a loophole for partisan attacks and dissent, but Mr. Eisenhower nevertheless, by mobilizing public opinion, can put his opponents in a hole if they do finally succumb to the partisan temptation of opposition for opposition's sake.

There were some Democrats who said publicly the speech by the President sounded "New Dealish" and there were Republicans who said the same thing privately. Actually, the Eisenhower address shows the strength of modern political propaganda which seeks to promise the moon, "because, if you don't, the other fellow will." The appeal to materialism apparently is still the dominant note to be struck—and it didn't start with the New Deal either.

"IN PUBLIC INTEREST"

So much of the present-day political combat is waged over phrases and slogans that, when a President with a few good ghost writers comes up with a speech that outdoes the masterpieces of any of the New Deal or Fair Deal ghost writers of the past, it tends to disconcert the "opposition." To strive for the support of the maximum number of groups in the electorate is good politics, especially when the time lag between promise and performance is certain to be somewhat lengthy and beset by all sorts of amendments and alternative plans which at a moment's notice can be interjected by the Democrat's as "in the public interest."

Politically, Mr. Eisenhower took the right tack for 1956—if he's thinking about the presidential contest which is less than 18 months away. But lots of things can happen in that interval, and the Democrats have the advantage of being able to wait till the crucial moments of next year to appraise how much has been accomplished and what has been left undone.

Pantry Shelf Outlook In 1955 Promises More Of Everything

By GAYNOR MADDOX

NEA Food & Markets Editor
NEW YORK—(NEA)—Confidence, competition and children are the main ingredients of the food industry's optimism for 1955.

Porter M. Jarvis, executive vice-president of Swift & Co., world's largest packers, expects 1955 meat production to hit an all-time record.

"This is part of the progress toward higher living standards. Foods rich in protein are basic for better nutrition," he said, "and there are 7200 more mouths to feed every day in the United States."

He predicted that this would mean that more and more meats, poultry and dairy products will be needed. "We must maintain dietary standards. There is every indication that production in these foods will continue the upward trend," he added.

A spokesman for Armour & Co., world's No. 2 packers, chorused Jarvis' confidence, though on a slightly more muted note. "Yes, we are hopeful for 1955. Looks like it should be much better than 1954—as much beef, more pork, more poultry," he said.

However, Paul S. Willis, president of Grocery Manufacturers of America, the 300 leading makers of packaged foods, pipes loud on the confidence note.

Spotlighting steady progress over a long period, he pointed to a growth of "from $16 billion in 1939 to $64 billion in 1954—that's been the record of the food industry measured in value of food consumed."

Willis sings the cradle song of progress, too. "Our total population is growing every year by nearly three million. There were about four million babies born in 1954," he said.

Other reasons for his optimism: 63 million people are at work at record wages and salaries; the food industry is developing better advertising, better promotion and merchandising.

"Today, an up-to-date grocery store offers about 5000 or more items as against around 1000 items in pre-war days," Willis explained. "Many of these have 'built-in kitchen services' which more and more families are demanding."

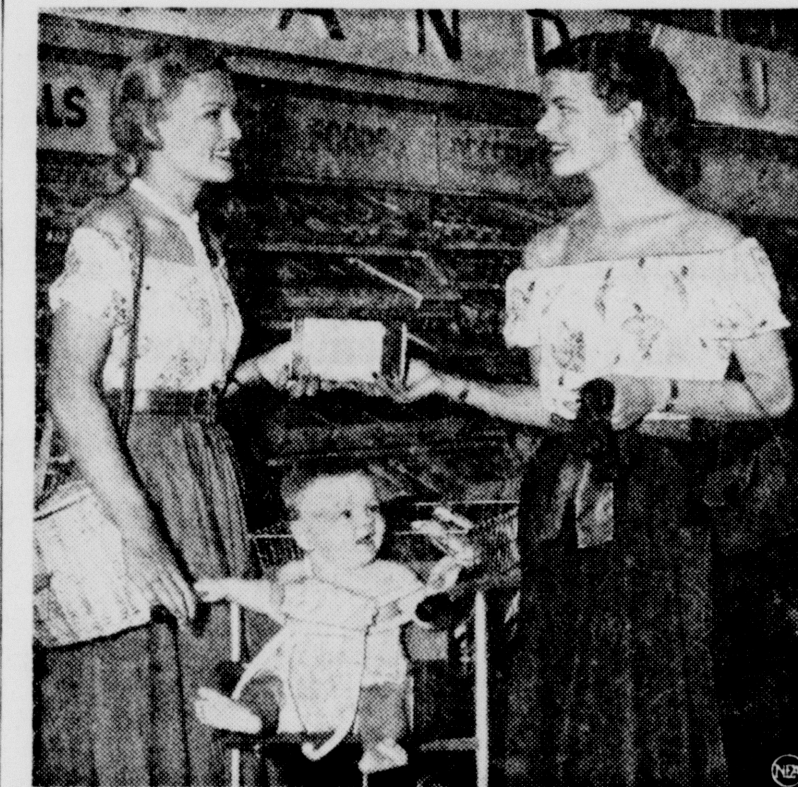

Charles S. Mortimer, president of giant-size General Foods, expects 1955 to be good largely because of the economic push of this new kitchen revolution.

"The American housewife is in revolt against long hours in the kitchen," he said. "She uses 12 times as many frozen vegetables as she did 15 years ago, feeds her youngsters 15 times more canned baby foods. Today, one serving of coffee out of three is instant coffee made in a cup; 50 times as much frozen orange concentrate is sold today as eight years ago."

Although meals comprised of ready-to-serve foods cost about one-third more, consumers have proved they are willing to pay the cost—and have the money, thanks to high employment levels, according to Mortimer.

"We are seeing only the beginning of this strong trend," he added. "Every year the housewife's greater emancipation from old-style hand labor housekeeping will increase the industry's opportunity for more and more sales."

John M. Fox, president of thriving Minute Maid Corp., is keeping his fingers crossed, even though at first glance 1955 looks good.

LOOKING BIG IN 1955'S SUPERMARKET picture is the American housewife's growing desire for ready-to-serve foods — plus the fact that our population grows nearly three million a year.

"The stone around our neck is inadequate facilities for the handling of frozen foods at the retail level," he explained. "The industry has grown much faster than the placement of cabinets."

A recent survey of supermarkets and chain stores revealed that they need twice as much cabinet space as they have, Fox said, adding:

"When you consider that frozen foods now average seven per cent of food sales in the larger outlets, you can see that our industry is getting only 50 per cent of today's potential in the competitive market. Therefore, even if 1955 does show a consistent growth, I don't think any of us can be satisfied when so much of the potential is not being capitalized on."

E. E. Stewart, president of National Dairy Products Corp., (sales about $1.25 billions a year) feels confident but sees problems ahead.

"Our greatest problems will be high costs of production and operation and also the much keener competition we face," he said. In his opinion closer control of costs and more aggressive selling will help solve these problems.

"Another vital point—if the food industry is to progress this year: services to consumers must meet the growing demand for convenience in products and packaging to save time, work and space," Stewart added.

Edson In Washington

By PETER EDSON

(NEA Washington Correspondent)
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Nearly 100 trade association representatives met quietly in Washington at the end of the year to discuss plans for renewing the long fight to end government competition with private business.

There was no publicity on the meeting, before or after. Some of the business representatives present declared the luncheon meeting, held in a Washington hotel, was completely off the record and that there was no news in it. No formal organization was perfected, no committees were appointed, no plans were made for future meetings, no resolutions were passed, no list of those present was kept.

One reason given for this fact was that many of the trade associations represented are not registered as lobbyists on Capitol Hill. Fearful of the lobby registration law, they did not wish to become involved in any activity that might later be interpreted as attempting to influence legislation.

THE MERE FACT THAT this number of trade association representatives could be assembled, however, indicates the extent of business interest in the subject. Among the industries represented were dairy products processors, food processors, warehouse operators, shipbuilders, electrical contractors, wooden box manufacturers, and so on.

Leaders in calling the meeting were Paul Courtney of the Associated Businessmen of America, Louis Fisher of the Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Association, and Robert North of the International Association of Ice Cream Manufacturers. Mr. North served as chairman.

In all, the U. S. government is now said to be in competition with some 135 private industries. Any formal organization of representatives of these business lines or their trade associations could, of course, exert considerable pressure on Congress and the executive branches of government.

It is insisted, however, that no such pressure group will be formed as a result of the recent Washington meeting. The main purpose was said to be informing the Washington representatives of the various industries on current developments in the effort to get the government out of competition with private business. Reports will then be made to trade associations which will separately determine their own policies for future action.

IN ONE SENSE, the Washington meeting of trade association representatives was held in something of a vacuum.

Suspended some place in this vacuum is a new Bureau of the Budget bulletin to all government agencies, outlining a new policy on handling their activities which compete with private business.

This new directive has been in preparation for months. It was supposed to have been issued shortly after election. Red tape delays and difficulties in getting the new policy approved by the Department of Justice and the Cabinet have held it up. But it is now scheduled for issuance some time this month.

Department of Defense also has a new directive on this subject in preparation for early issuance. Most of the government's activities competing with private business are now in the Army, Navy and Air Force installations.

They include clothing manufacture and repair, ordnance and munitions manufacture, paint, rope and other military supply production, aircraft and automotive service and repair, post exchange and commissary stores competing with local retail merchants.

IN THE LAST CONGRESS, a House Government Operations subcommittee under Rep. Cecil Harden (R., Ind.) ran extensive hearings and issued a number of reports highly critical of all government business-type activities.

Just who will be on the Government Operations committees in the new Congress, and whether this field of investigation will be continued are not now known. Washington lobbyists naturally want to be prepared for any developments along this line.

Four bills were introduced in the last Congress to limit government competition with private industry. One bill passed the House, but died in the Senate.

Trade association representatives now feel that if they had exerted a little more pressure at the time, this legislation would have passed the last Congress and been signed by the President.

Spies In U. S. Defense Plants Called Menace

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Investigations subcommittee says "the Communist party has successfully infiltrated national defense industries."

New legal safeguards against possible subversion and espionage were urged in a report by the subcommittee on a probe conducted under the chairmanship of Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

It said Communists in defense plants are "in a position to acquire vital information concerning our military secrets and our military effectiveness," and added:

"The employment of Communists in defense facilities, even though they are not actually working on classified (secret) material, is a clear and present danger to our national security."

Calling the removal of Communists from defense plants of "paramount importance" to the nation's security, the report made these two recommendations:

1. That Congress authorize government officials to bar persons believed to be disposed to commit sabotage, espionage or other subversion from defense plants, even though the plants have no classified contracts.

2. That the Defense Department "prepare adequate security regulations preventing the employment of and ordering the removal of Communists in establishments producing materials under the national defense program regardless of whether the employment is in connection with classified work."

Indian Was Smart, Demanded Payoff

Straits Bridge Job Continues Despite Cold Winter Blasts

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. (AP)—Despite the bleak blasts of winter, work continues on the multi-million dollar Mackinac Straits Bridge, which will join the Upper and Lower Peninsulas of Michigan.

There isn't too much to be seen these cold, grey days—only a few lifeless steel structures jutting from the icy waters.

However, the straits are free of ice and engineers say they are proceeding on schedule. The gigantic suspension bridge is expected to be opened for traffic in the fall of 1957.

Big Caissons Sink

Work was impeded during the hurricane season last fall. "Hurricane Hazel"—an ornerly, old wind—caused the biggest delay.

But the weatherman has promised "workable weather" for the next few weeks. Crew of 300 men working on a round-the-clock basis (Christmas and New Year's, too), is busy sinking the two large caissons which will support the bridge.

When the bridge is completed, it will have a longer total span than the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco. The Mackinac span will be 8,450 feet, compared to Golden Gate's 7,344 feet.

The cost of the Mackinac Bridge will be approximately $100,000,000. A four-lane structure, it is expected among other things, to be a big boon to vacation business in the Upper Peninsula.

At the present time, engineers are struggling, inch by inch, to anchor the two caissons to bedrock on the bottom of the straits.

Two of the engineers—Grover C. Denny, project manager of Merritt, Chapman and Scott, the contractors, and Jack Kinney, resident engineer for D. B. Steinman, designer and consulting engineer—contend both caissons are so far down and heavily weighted that it doesn't matter whether or not they're on bedrock this winter. They say both will be anchored by spring.

Steel Comes In Spring

Each caisson is 116 feet in diameter and bears a number—No. 19 for the southern caisson and No. 20 for the northern caisson. They are being filled with concrete and stone.

The No. 19 caisson is 205 feet long. The top of it is one foot under water. Denny believes the caisson is as far down as it can go, but Kinney thinks it can be pushed down another six to 18 inches.

The other caisson, No. 20, is 212 feet in length, with 17 feet sticking out of the water.

The No. 19 caisson weighs 2,800 tons and contains 25,450 tons of concrete and stone. It is filled to a depth of 92 feet.

The No. 20 caisson is 50 tons heavier, at 2,850 tons. It contains 31,510 tons of concrete and stone.

In an effort to sink the caissons, workers have been using dynamite and rotary drills. Presently, both are sunk into hard pan, a composite of hard clay and gravel.

In the spring, the American Bridge division of the United States Steel Co. will start work on the actual bridge itself. Two anchor piers and two support piers already have been completed at each end.

Miss Johnson, Donald Brewer In Bridal Rites

An arrangement of white flowers and lighted cathedral tapers formed the setting in Memorial Methodist Church of Gladstone Saturday, Jan. 8, for the wedding of Miss Leona Lucille Johnson of 417 S. 12th St., Escanaba and Donald H. Brewer of Gladstone. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Johnson of Chatham. Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Brewer, 1103 Michigan Ave., Gladstone, are the bridegroom's parents.

The 3 p. m. double ring ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. Meldon Crawford. Mrs. Howard Sundblad, organist, played traditional bridal music and accompanied Paul Cowen who sang "Because," "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white nylon over satin, designed with a snug lace bodice and a bouffant skirt of double layers of net over satin with wide lace inserts. The complementary bolero with lace and net trim had a stand-up petal collar with lace extending in a V shape in back and on the end of the cuffs. A crown of seed pearls held her nylon veil. She carried a cascade of white roses.

The reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents. A three tiered all white wedding cake, topped with a bridal couple ornament and surrounded with flowers, centered the table. White candles in crystal holders were at either side. Miss Pat Finlan poured and Miss Dolores Lobos served the wedding cake. The gifts and guest book were in charge of Mrs. Herbert Peterson.

Boy Meets Girl By The Numbers

Newsfeatures
BERLIN—Soldiers and other Americans in Berlin like to visit a mammoth night club that goes out of its way to help boy meet girl. It's the Resi Ballroom (pronounced "racy") and it's a favorite spot for both GIs and tourists.
 "By the numbers," can have unpleasant meanings for GIs when they recall the drill sergeant's chant. But the numbers at the Resi stand in lights above each of the tables and they can help a lonesome man who wants to talk to that comely miss several tables away. He can dial her number by telephone.

Censor Watches
 For the more bashful, there is a pneumatic tube system over which coy notes may be "mailed" from one table to another.
 But the message must not be naughty. It goes first to a central office where it is read by a woman censor. If the note passes, it is relayed by pneumatic tube to its table address.

The Resi is perhaps best known for its water show, a multi-colored display of thousands of water jets which are raised and lowered or swayed back and forth in synchronization with symphonic music.

Light Show
 More than 2,000 gallons of water a minute are pressured through these jets. The changing light effects are produced by 100,000 colored lights located behind and under the spouts.
 The Resi Ballroom draws an average of 650 persons a night

HELLO—A young woman at the Resi Ballroom has a talk with a young man at another table. Each table has a number which can be dialed. The management has a censor to guard against improper exchanges.

during the week and more than 1,000 patrons a night on week-ends.

It was originally established in 1926 by Paul Baatz, a well known speedboat racer. At the time, it was located in the center of Berlin near Alexander Platz, which now is in the Russian sector.

It was housed then in the Residence Theatre and got its name from a shortened version of the theatre name.

The old Resi was destroyed in World War II. It was rebuilt by Baatz and a partner in May, 1950, at a new location in the American sector.

There is no authentic record of the origin of the office of poet-laureate of England.

Frequent Dulles Trips Criticized

WASHINGTON (U)—Sen. Bridges (R-NH) has released without comment a report by a nonpaid consultant to the Senate Appropriations subcommittee on armed services criticizing frequent trips to Europe by recent secretaries of state.

The report, prepared by Julius Klein, Chicago public relations man and a reserve brigadier general, specifically mentioned Secretary Dulles and said:

"We have cut the ground out from under our ambassadors by the alacrity and frequency with which our secretaries of state have visited Europe to personally conduct our foreign relations."

Bridges released the report Sunday night as outgoing chairman of the parent Senate Appropriations Committee.

Klein, who based his report on a European visit last September and October, suggested that if European leaders feel they must talk with the secretary of state they should come to this country.

MISSING A GRAND SLAM
North's over-conservative response to his partner's two-no trump opening made the laydown grand slam unobtainable in the deal below.

The bidding:
South West North East
2NT Pass 4♥ Pass
4NT Pass 5♦ Pass
5NT Pass 6♣ Pass
6♥ Pass Pass Pass

When South discovered (via the successive Blackwood bids) that North had an ace and a king, he was tempted to bid seven hearts—because North's original jump response implied a long suit. But then South gave the matter thought and (unfortunately) concluded that North probably would have made his jump bid on a five-card heart suit headed by A-Q-J, with the side king and unbalanced distribution. If that was the case, only 12 tricks were in sight—so South refused to jeopardize the sure small slam.

Perhaps South should have gone the limit, but there were some grounds for his fear about the five-card suit, and in any event the greater blame for missing the grand slam could be laid at North's door.

Let's attack the proposition in a roundabout fashion. Suppose that North had held nothing but six hearts headed by A-Q or A-Q-J. Surely, he still would have been warranted in jumping to four hearts. (Granted, with this he could not later show a king in response to Blackwood, but with the diamond king he would have the same justification if he had only five hearts.)

It follows that with his actual holding North could well afford a stronger bid than four hearts over two notrump—a jump straight to six hearts, or at least to five. Then South could have gone to the grand slam with complete assurance.

In other words, the size of the jump response is all-important. Get your Free Digest of the Cul-

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A Wilshire District resident has found a way to silence his neighbor's TV set whenever he wishes.

The idea came to him during a recent hot spell when he was unable to sleep because of the blare of commercials from the set next door.

He stuck a metal fishpole out his third story window and leaned it against the antenna on the neighbor's roof. It did a beautiful job of shorting reception. He resorts to the fish pole now as often as necessary, removing it in the morning. The neighbor and a TV repairman, he reports, are slowly going nuts.

Circuit Court Term Begins

Three criminal cases were continued until April when the January term of circuit court opened here at 10 a. m. Monday with the Hon. Richard W. Nebel presiding.

Jury for the January term has been excused until Feb. 1. A fourth criminal case, that of John R. Anglemier, Rte. 4, Pontiac, who is charged with felonious assault, was passed until reports of a psychiatric examination are received from Green Bay.

The defendant was brought to Green Bay Saturday.

Judge Nebel Monday took under advisement a second petition of Glen Leigh, now serving time in the Marquette branch prison, for a retrial Leigh, who was arrested Jan. 12, 1952, for breaking and entering the courthouse here in the nighttime, contends that he was not informed of his constitutional rights. William J. Sheahan, prosecuting attorney, presented the petition, with the request that it be dismissed.

Petition To Vacate—The continued criminal cases are those of the People vs. Harold E. Gauthier, desertion; and the People vs. Ray Marentette, on two charges of trespass. The state has requested continuance of the Marentette cases because added time is needed due to the political changeover in Lansing. Judge Nebel stated.

The law cases of Dominic Loia and Joseph Angera against the Manistique & Lake Superior Railway corporation were passed pending arrival of stipulations for dismissal. A third law case on the calendar, John Daugherty vs. John Slack, was continued until Feb. 1 for jury trial.

A petition of Victor Hugo of Thompson to vacate a portion of street in the plat of the Village of Thompson was added to the law calendar Monday and is scheduled to be heard Wednesday.

Case Dismissed—During review of the calendar, Judge Nebel dismissed the case of M. E. O'Brien vs. Robert Graves and Roy R. Graves for lack of progress.

In chancery, Judge Nebel passed two divorce cases, and continued one until the next term, because the parties are effecting a settlement. A fourth divorce case was added, as well as a motion to amend a divorce decree.

Action on chancery matters was scheduled today and Wednesday.

Mrs. Scott Creighton was organist for the services.

Pallbearers were William Shinar, Everett Cookson, Alex Creighton, Gust Larson, Harold Bowman and Omer Olsen.

More Than $8400 Is Spent For Polio Here Since '51

Schoolcraft county's chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis paid out $8,470.84 in the years 1951 through 1954, and 14 victims of the disease were added, Fred H. Hahne, chapter chairman, reported Monday at a regular meeting of the Manistique Rotary club.

The chapter collected $11,658.93 from 1950 to 1954, inclusive, he said, and of that amount $6,149.43 was remitted to national headquarters. The balance of $5,509.50 was used locally, as well as $2600 additional revenue received from the national foundation.

"Every month of the year, the national foundation does its utmost to provide the American people with the best polio service available," the Schoolcraft chairman pointed out. "January is the one month we in turn are able to measure and learn how important our polio programs are to the nation," he added.

Increasing Incidence
Surveys show that in 1954 seven of every 10 Americans support the National Foundation with contributions, Hahne stated. In 1953, the polio season had a duration of 20 weeks and new cases reported in the United States that year totaled 35,968. Thirteen states and Alaska experienced a case ratio of polio in excess of 30 per 100,000 population, he pointed out, while the national case rate was 22.7 per 100,000.

During 1953, the speaker noted, the American Red Cross recruited 596 nurses for appointments on polio work by the National Foundation.

"More polio cases have been reported in the last six years than in the previous quarter of a century," Hahne emphasized.

Fewer cases of polio were reported in the Midwest last year, but the national total was higher than the previous year, the Schoolcraft chairman said. A 10-state area which included Michigan had a total of 9,700, according to provisional reports, compared with 10,245 in 1953, he explained.

Need $64 Million

The estimated national total for 1954 is close to $39,000, Hahne said, compared with $35,970 the preceding year. This places 1954 third in number of cases to 1952 and 1949. It was the fourth highest in the nation's history, he stated.

The national foundation must carry on its programs of patient aid, research, public and professional education and polio prevention, he stressed. To support this program, including $9,000,000 for purchase of vaccine, the 1955 March of Dimes needs $64,000,000, Hahne stated.

Following his talk, and showing of a movie on poliomyelitis, Rotarians contributed $69.55 to the March of Dimes here.

Mrs. A. W. Cookram is campaign chairman. Members of the local chapter, in addition to Hahne, are Edward LaFave, secretary; J. M. Carlson, treasurer; and William L. Norton, Mrs. W. F. Kafauer and Mrs. George Stephens, directors.

Adventist Welfare Center Reopening

The Seventh-day Adventist welfare center will reopen Thursday, at 2 p. m., it was announced by the Rev. Mohr, pastor of the Manistique church.

The center has been moved to the rear downstairs of the building occupied before, at the corner of Oak and Maple aye.

During the year it has been open the center has given nearly 5000 articles of clothing and furniture and food to more than 125 needy families of this area. No charge is made for the items, given to any needy person, regardless of race or creed.

The clothing and furniture comes from families in the area who no longer need it. Articles of clothing which can't be worn are cut up for quilts and rugs by women of the Dorcas Society. These are given to needy families also.

At the present, there is a great need for children's clothing, and material for quilt backs, the center reports. Anyone with articles to give, may call 802-J or 840-W.

When the Holy Name Crusaders, who have a brand new gym themselves, play at Marinette Lourdes on Jan. 25, they will be gracing another new hardwood court. The new gym at Lourdes was used or the first time last week in a game against Menasha. The court is 84 feet long by 50 feet wide and the gym seats 1,340 spectators.

Escanaba boxers will be back in action again Thursday night when they travel to Iron Mountain for a workout with the Mountaineer scrappers who were here a few weeks ago. Iron Mountain boxing coach Ray Mariucci now has two middleweights, two welterweights and a lightweight who will enter the Upper Peninsula GG tourney which starts here Jan. 31.

Gwynn's Barry Mussatto fired 30 points through the nets as the Model Towners beat Munising last weekend. Mussatto has now scored 192 points in seven games. The 80-74 victory over Munising may have been a costly one, however, as Mussatto is believed to have suffered a broken index finger in the last minute of play. It is not known whether he will be sidelined or not.

Walt Pearson of the Kiwanis No. 2 team in the Major League, recently accomplished a rare feat when he picked up two successive 5-6 splits. And the Clairmont Transfer team in the Classic League last week slugged a hefty 1018 count. Augie Garner and Dick Nelson clipped 222 games, Bill Puckelwartz had 204, Jim Bright 187 and Harry Garner 183.

In dartball, Erwin Ten Haken tied a Delta County Church Dartball League record by getting eight hits in one game as the First Methodist team of Escanaba beat the Calvary Lutheran team of Rapid River 22-9. His hits consisted of seven singles and a triple. He equalled the previous record set by Dennis Artley of the Gladstone Red Shirts, who clicked for six singles and two triples in 1953.

No Stand-Pat Policy For Orioles; New Catcher Ace

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP)—No one can accuse the Baltimore Orioles of standing pat. Only seven of the 43 players listed with the Browns 16 months ago when the St. Louis franchise was shifted to Baltimore are still with the club.

Of the 20 new faces 11 are pitchers but the newcomer most coveted of all is a catcher, 24-year-old Hal Smith. The latter hasn't played a single game in the major leagues but manager Paul Richards already regards him as the club's No. 1 receiver.

"I'd like to see the guy who can beat him out," challenged

Richards after he acquired Smith from the New York Yanks in the now famous 18-player swap.

Batting Champ

Richards is not the only one. Every scout who has seen Smith is high on the West Frankfort, Ill., youngster. Smith also proved he is no slouch with the bat by capturing the American Assn. batting title. He hit .350 at Columbus last year.

Another newcomer of high promise is Frank Kellert, the 30-year-old first baseman who led the Texas League with 41 home runs and 146 runs batted in last season. Kellert, up once before, batted .316 at San Antonio and for the fourth straight time led all first basemen in fielding.

Kellert's chief opposition may come from Gus Triandos, another ex-Yankee who will be converted from a catcher into a first baseman. Triandos, a 24-year-old right-handed hitting giant, hit .296 at Kansas City but potted 18 homers and drove in 65 runs in 131 games.

Don Leppert, still another ex-Yankee, figures to get a shot at the regular third base job. The 24-year-old Leppert is a .270 hitter.

Garcia, a 2 to 1 favorite, was upset by Bobby Bell of Youngstown, Ohio, Monday night on a unanimous decision in 10 rounds at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway. Constance, an 11 to 5 choice, was held to a second draw by Johnny Brown of Chicago in a dull 10-rounder at St. Nicholas Arena.

Garcia had three cuts around his left eye and one around the right that required a total of 10 stitches.

Constance, who hadn't fought in two months, was dull and rusty. He weighed 149½. Brown 146½. The pair had fought a draw at Chicago July 21.

Judge Bert Grant voted for Constance 5-4-1 and judge Nick Gamboli scored for Brown 5-4-1. Referee Ray Miller, who repeatedly urged both to "get in there and punch," had it even 4-4-2. The card had Constance on top 5-4-1.

Mueller's Milwaukee Bout Is Called Off

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The off again, on again 10 round boxing bout here tonight between Peter Mueller of Germany and Gordon Wallace of Canada, is off for keeps this time—knocked out by State Athletic Commission physicians.

The middleweight bout was canceled late Monday by promoter Phil Valley after commission examiners found the German import was suffering from a virus infection and had not trained for five days.

Two weeks ago Mueller was awarded a knockout victory over Ernie Durando.

Physicians indicated that Mueller might not be ready for a scheduled fight with Carmen Basilio Jan. 21 in Syracuse, N.Y., scoring 30 points.

Neither Iowa nor Michigan were pressed. The Hawkeyes hit for an unbelievable .515 per cent from the field to bury Michigan State 94-81 and Michigan romped over Wisconsin, 90-63.

Illinois snapped Purdue's seven game winning streaking and solved a Boilermaker zone defense by shooting over it, Illinois connected for a .472 average from the field and led 36-27 at halftime.

Purdue closed the gap 49-50 eight minutes in the second half but Illinois scored with quick points to pull into a comfortable lead. Little Bill Ridley led the Illini with 20 points.

Terrific Average

Iowa's shooting percentage was second best in conference history. The record of .611 was set by the Hawkeyes against Northwestern in 1953.

Forward Carl Cain was Iowa's big gun with 20 points—hitting on 7 of 9 field goal attempts. Cain also starred on defense grabbing 21 rebounds.

Don Eaddy, Harvey Williams and Tom Jorgensen scored 19, 18 and 17 points respectively to push Michigan to its one-sided victory. Wisconsin's Dick Cable, however, was high scorer with 21.

Both Northwestern and Ohio State were idle.

Revised Eskymo Lineup To Open At Stephenson Court

The Escanaba Eskymos will throw a revised starting lineup at the Stephenson Eagles tonight in a game at the Stephenson gym, starting at 9:15 (EST).

Ricky Erickson, southpaw junior forward, will open opposite Bill Holm. Lawrence Sauve will be at the pivot with Mike Heminger and Tom Hogan at guard posts.

Jim Beck will be held for early replacement in a guard post and John Duke is likely to see action at a forward. Coach Jim Betchek said today.

The revision was caused by Escanaba's spotty performance against the Gladstone Braves in their last start. The Braves wall-poled the Eskymos 82-39 at Gladstone Friday night. The defeat for Escanaba came after three impressive wins over Marquette, Iron Mountain and Ishpeming. Two previous losses to Holy Name and Marinette give the Eskymos a record of three wins and three losses thus far this season.

Eagles Are Tall

At Stephenson the Eskymos will be facing a tall quint that has won four of its six starts. Coach Walt Schousen's Eagles have posted victories over Bark River, Hermansville, Holy Name and Peshtigo while losing to Marinette Lourdes and Menominee.

Schousen's starting lineup is made up of five players who go six-feet or better, topped by center Dick LeRoy who is 6-4. At the forwards will be Tom Kakuk (6-2) and Jerry Martin (6-0) while at the guards will be Jim Strohl (6-1) and John Schultz (6-0).

In reserve are Bob Visuri, Ray Hubbard and Harlan Gruenstern. Visuri and Gruenstern are 5-5 midgets and Hubbard is 6-1. Schousen carries only eight players on his varsity roster.

District Teams

The game will be Stephenson's first since the Christmas holidays. The Eskymos will be facing their first of two district foes within a week. They entertain the tall Menominee Maroons at the Junior High gym Friday night. Escanaba, Stephenson, Menominee and Holy Name comprise the Class B district which will compete at the Holy Name gym in March.

Bee teams of the two schools will open action tonight at 8 (Escanaba time). Officials for the varsity game will be Tom Pater-noster and Dutch Cummings of

Little Center Not Afraid Of Giants In Basketball

ST. LOUIS (AP)—The boy who's probably the shortest center in big-time college basketball says there's no sense being scared of those giants—in fact, he "enjoys the challenge of meeting them."

Jim McLaughlin, St. Louis University's 6-foot 4-inch junior center, has faced 10 giants ranging from 6-7 to 7 feet this season, and only three out-rebounded him.

McLaughlin seldom stopped the high scoring of such big men as Indiana's 6-11 Don Schlundt, Kentucky's 6-7 Bob Burrow, LaSalle's 6-7 Tom Gola, and 7-foot Don Bol-deback of Houston.

But they didn't halt him, either. He's the second best scorer for the Billikens, with a 17.4 average.

The team's starting center as a sophomore last year, McLaughlin says added weight and experience have helped his rebounding this season.

"You'd think a short man would wear out in the second half and let a giant get away," coach Eddie Hickey said, "but Jim gets tougher as the game goes on."

Michigan Star May Be Lost

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Michigan found itself in an early tie for first place in the Big Ten basketball race today, but probably without one of its finest players.

Michigan swamped Wisconsin 90-63 Monday night to join Illinois, Minnesota and Iowa in a four-way tie for first place, all with 2-1 records.

Iowa beat Michigan State, Illinois set down Purdue and Minnesota defeated Indiana in other Big Ten games last night.

Michigan's coach Bill Perigo, after talking with doctors, said that first-string guard Jim Barron, who hurt his knee a week ago against Indiana, may be lost for the season if the injury shows torn ligaments or a cartilage break.

Michigan's play was erratic and ragged for the first half against Wisconsin but the Wolverines held a 41-36 halftime lead.

Guard Don Eaddy was high scorer for Michigan with 19 points. Forward Dick Cable of Wisconsin topped the scoring with 21 points, nine of them on free throws.

Michigan had a booming 39.4 shooting percentage against Wisconsin's 29.3. In the last 2½ minutes, Perigo sent in an entirely sophomore lineup against the tiring Badgers and they boosted the score another 10 points.

The Milwaukee Braves list 132 regular and farm team players in the Armed Forces. About 80 of these are expected to be discharged prior to or during the early stages of the season.

Don McClaren of St. Louis has bettered the 1800 mark in the American Bowling Congress tournament all-events for the past six years.

The first indoor bowling alley was erected in London, England in 1455.

Purdue Downed

In the Big Ten, Iowa, one of the favorites, hit with better than 50 per cent of its shots to defeat Michigan State 94-81. Minnesota turned back Indiana's defending champions 88-74; Illinois ended Purdue's two-day lead in the standings by beating the Boilermakers 83-73, and Michigan whipped Wisconsin 90-63.

Colorado defeated Kansas 65-54 and remained unbeaten in the Big Seven race. The Buffaloes are tied for the league lead with Kansas State and Missouri.

Other major results included: Holy Cross 93, Notre Dame 57; Georgia 67, Tulane 63, and Tulsa 65, Detroit 62.

Manistique Mitt Team Opens Training Drills

MANISTIQUE — The Manistique Golden Gloves boxing team, which boasts one of the best ring records in the Upper Peninsula, began workouts this week in preparation for the U. P. tourney to be held here Jan. 31-Feb. 7.

Drills are held evenings at 7:30 at the Lincoln School gymnasium and any boys interested in training for the team have been invited to attend the workouts.

Three former champions form the nucleus of the Manistique mitt team. Back in action will be Harvard Lancour, defending Upper Peninsula featherweight open division champion who may fight as a lightweight this year; Bud Holmberg, U. P. novice featherweight champ; and Harry Nelson, U. P. and Wisconsin novice bantamweight champ.

Impressive Record

Lancour owns an impressive record in his three years of boxing. He copped the U. P. and Wisconsin novice lightweight title three years ago, won the U. P. and Wisconsin open featherweight crown two years ago and last year dropped an extremely unpopular decision in the featherweight finals in Milwaukee.

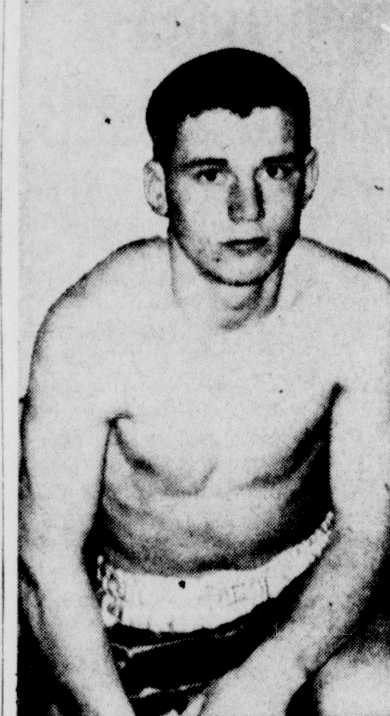

The rugged Manistique scrapper is regarded as one of the most promising leather-swingers ever to fight in the Peninsula.

Holmberg, who is a football letterman at Manistique in spite of his 126 pounds, has been unbeatable in Peninsula competition in recent years. Nelson, who has grown out of the bantamweight class, is a reliable performer.

Others who took part in the first Manistique workouts were Gary Tuftnell, 126-pounder, and Conrad Letson, 147-pounder. Both have seen action in past bouts.

Expect New Fighters

A number of other fighters, newcomers to the sport, are expected to join the team this week and Manistique will likely have one of the strongest team entries in the U. P. tournament. The workouts are under the direction of Pete Poupour and Wayne Tuftnell. Ed Toyra is coach of the Manistique team. The public is invited to the workouts at the Lincoln School. Manistique's boxing team has no sponsor this year.

Other boxing centers in the Peninsula are in the midst of training for the tournament and two of the U. P. teams will clash at the Soo Saturday night. Pat Murphy's Marquette team will take on the Soo swingers trained by Al Douglas.

Escanaba boxers will travel to Iron Mountain Thursday night for a workout with Ray Mariucci's five-man squad.

Canadian Soo National Mine and Menominee-Marquette teams have been busy in training sessions, and will be represented by large team entries in the tournament.

Kentucky Retains Top Spot In Spite Of Loss

(By The Associated Press)

A one-point setback, the first defeat in 33 games, failed to dislodge Kentucky's Wildcats from first place in the weekly Associated Press basketball poll.

The Wildcats, have a record of seven victories and a 59-58 defeat by Georgia Tech through last Saturday's games.

They led the poll with 895 points a margin of 15 over North Carolina State. A week ago they had a lead of 221 over runnerup Duquesne, which also came a cropper against little St. Francis of Loretto, Pa., Saturday. Duquesne slipped to third place this week.

The 104 sports writers and sportscasters participating in the poll gave Kentucky 52 first-place votes, North Carolina State 22.

The leaders, with first-place votes in parentheses:

Freeman's 35 Average Is Tops In Big Ten

CHICAGO (AP)—Robin Freeman of Ohio State, hitting at the phenomenal average of 35.1 points per game, enjoys a healthy lead in the Big Ten scoring race.

Freeman has 316 points in 9 games. His nearest rival, Indiana's Don Schlundt, has 274 points in 10 games. Minnesota's Dick Garmaker has 272 points but the Gopher star has played 11 games and is averaging 24.7.

Frank Ehmann of Northwestern is the only other player averaging 20 or more points per game. Ehmann has scored 208 points in 9 games for a 23.2 average.

Previously Unbeaten Pierce Suffers Loss

MARQUETTE—The list of undefeated Upper Peninsula high school basketball teams was shaved to seven last night when Marquette Pierce dropped a 62-46 decision to Negaunee St. Paul.

Still undefeated in the Peninsula are Rock, Iron River, Soo, Mass, Ontonagon, Houghton and Gwynn.

Milwaukee Rookies Set Scoring Pace

NEW YORK (AP)—National Basketball Assn. rookies from a last place club hold down the first two spots in the scoring list today.

Milwaukee's Frank Selvy, who broke virtually all the college records at Furman last year, regained first place with a total of 707 points. One point back of him is teammate Bob Pettit, former Louisiana State All-American.

Dolph Schayes of Syracuse remained in third with 675 points. Boston's Ed Macauley, last week's leader, dropped to a tie for fifth with Philadelphia's Neil Johnston at 655 apiece.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks to all the kind relatives, neighbors and friends who assisted us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved mother, Mrs. August Ekstrom. We are very grateful to Major Joseph Anderson for his comforting words and other manifestations of sympathy, to those who furnished their cars, sent floral offerings and to all others, who in any way aided us to bear our sorrow. The memory of these acts of kindness will always remain with us.
